Language Requirements

All bachelor and most master programs at TU Berlin are taught in German and therefore require German language skills (regardless of the choice of courses). Students need to have a B1 German certificate, but can be granted conditional acceptance if they apply with an A2 German certificate and submit the B1 certificate before the semester starts.

Only special program students, students working on their thesis and students who will attend an English taught master's program can submit an English certificate instead. For further information please check our additional info sheet.

Course Catalogue

The available courses vary from semester to semester, but courses offered in one summer or winter semester are usually available again in the following summer or winter semester. The final course list is only available shortly before the semester begins, typically in late February or March for the summer semester and late August or September for the winter semester.

Students can check for courses here.

Course Registration

If not otherwise mentioned in the course catalogue, attending the first class of a course after the start of the lecture period is sufficient. However, in some cases, students may be required to sign up for a course in advance via a platform at TU or via e-mail. We recommend contacting the lecturers via email beforehand.

In general, all courses are open to exchange students. However, we cannot guarantee that students will secure a spot in certain courses, especially at Faculty VI (Architecture). Additionally, some courses may have specific requirements that students must meet in order to participate (usually indicated in the course catalogue).

Pre-Semester German Intensive Course

Preceding each semester TU Berlin's language department 'ZEMS' (Zentraleinrichtung Moderne Sprachen) offers Pre-Semester German Intensive Courses.

Most ERASMUS+ students are only allowed to attend these courses from level B1 on and higher since they have to submit proof of their A2 skills when applying already.

Course fee: 295 €

Hours: 80 hours covering four weeks

Registration: Detailed information on how to register will be sent to students automatically once they have successfully applied.

Winter semester 2026/27

Course participant orientation (online):
August 17, 2026
Placement tests: September 2, 2026

TU Sport

TU Sport offers a diverse range of sports courses, giving students the opportunity to stay active, try out new activities, and meet others. Find out more here.

Housing

The International Office has a very small dormitory room contingent provided by StudierendenWERK Berlin. Students can apply but also have to be prepared to look for housing on the free market. Detailed dorm room application information will be provided automatically after students have successfully applied.

Living Expenses

Housing: between 350-650 €

Food/Drink: approx. 150 €

Mandatory semester contribution: currently 310,49 € (public transportation is currently included in the semester contribution)

Please note that these figures merely represent a rough estimate.

Health Insurance

Exchange students have to register with a German statutory health insurer or have health insurance abroad and apply for a waiver of the statutory health insurance requirement to be able to successfully enroll. This means they have to take care of this beforehand. Detailed information can be found here.

Third Party Liability Insurance: It is the students' responsibility to acquire an insurance (from home) for personal belongings, accidents and third-party liability while studying in Germany. TU Berlin cannot cover any losses that may occur.

Visa

Students requiring a visa for Germany should schedule their visa appointment well in advance. Unfortunately, our team is unable to assist with visa applications, but you can find all relevant information here.

Additional support

TU Berlin offers a range of support services for students, including psychological counseling, advisory services for students with disabilities or chronic illnesses, and many other resources to help with academic and personal challenges. You can find more information here:
