

7th International Week

of the University of Hildesheim

“INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES ON SUSTAINABILITY”

designed in cooperation with the Green Office

02. - 07. June 2024

Representatives of partner universities and other universities worldwide are warmly invited!

The 7th International Week 2024 will highlight the topic of sustainability, focusing on a broader definition of this term which also includes social perspectives.

How can we effectively pursue goals of sustainable development in the context of higher education?

How can we put into practice a sustainable mobility in academia and what can potentially be elements of a sustainable campus?

Which (research) perspectives, projects and initiatives on sustainability do exist and have proven effective at partner universities – as well as at the University of Hildesheim?

We would like to explore these questions in more depth and from different points of view during our International Week.

We invite you to an intensive exchange and to establish valuable new contacts, joint project ideas and possible cooperations!

Target group:

The International Week

“INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES ON SUSTAINABILITY”

is aimed at administrative staff, academic staff as well as lecturers and invites to

- get to know the University of Hildesheim better in the context of Internationalisation and Sustainability
- participate personally in an inspiring exchange and reflect on experiences
- develop joint project ideas for virtual exchange
- establish contacts and to think about new partnerships / cooperations
- compile collected knowledge (best practice)
- present one's own university in the context of the International Week theme

You can download the preliminary program for the International Week here.

You can register here.

The language of discussion will be English.

The closing date for registration is the 31th of March 2024.

Please feel free to email us with any further questions.